Choosing a Tenant

It is recommended to first select a tenant to which you want to register a product, and then proceed further to register the product. If you don't select a tenant, your product will be registered to the default tenant.

To select a tenant, click the required tenant that is listed below Search Tenants You can also search for a tenant by its name and then select the tenant.

You can create a tenant from this page and then choose the newly created tenant to register your product. To create a tenant, click + Create new tenant and do the workflow actions, and then select the newly created tenant to register your product.

To skip selecting a tenant, click Proceed to product registration at the bottom of the page.
