

“Norman SecureBox is simply great”

Dieter Morgner,
Managing Director

.... says Dieter Morgner, Managing Director of mowaSystems

As a Norman Safeground partner, Dieter Morgner of mowaSystems was able to test Norman SecureBox for free. The product inspired internally – so licenses were purchased shortly thereafter. Above all, the flexibility of the product was what convinced everyone of its usefulness. The employees now have access to business-critical documents at any time without having to worry about their security. As Norman SecureBox can be accessed from any mobile platform, every employee can have their data with them at all times. This is also demonstrated to customers by mowaSystems when files are shown and made available to them real time from SecureBox. The important part is that only the owner of the files can decide who gets access to them.

Unfortunately, increasing numbers of insecure, personal file-sharing versions are used in companies, which often go unmonitored. mowaSystems has found this out with a number of its customers through security scans. As personal file-sharing solutions are becoming an ever increasing target for hackers, this can mean a significant security risk for critical business data. Dieter Morgner feels secure when using Norman SecureBox as the data is encrypted on the end device itself, during transfers as well as in the data centres, which are located within the European Union. In the future Mr Morgner plans to also use Norman SecureBox for project planning.
